EXECUTIVES

DAVID MONTGOMERY

General Partner, President and Chief Executive Officer

David Montgomery's first association with the Phillies was as a young fan growing up in Philadelphia, attending hundreds of games at Connie Mack Stadium. He realized every baseball fan's dream when he started working for the club in 1971 just in time for the opening of the new Veterans Stadium.

After graduating with an MBA from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School, Montgomery began his career in the Phillies Sales Office selling season and group tickets. He advanced to positions as marketing director and then director of sales before becoming executive vice president after the 1981 season.

He was elevated to chief operating officer in 1992. In 1994, Montgomery was designated as co-general partner and acquired an ownership interest in the team. On June 20, 1997 he succeeded Bill Giles as general partner, president and chief executive officer.

Montgomery's association with the Phillies from Connie Mack to Veterans Stadium has now extended to Citizens Bank Park, the Phillies' new major league ballpark which opened to very positive reviews in April of 2004. Under his leadership and watchful eye, the Phillies constructed new state-of-the-art facilities in both Philadelphia and Clearwater, Fla., with the 2004 opening of Bright House Networks Field, the home of Phillies Spring Training and the Clearwater Threshers.

During his 36 years in the game, Montgomery has been active in a wide range of areas for Major League Baseball. He is presently vice chair of the Board of Directors of Major League Baseball Enterprises (formerly MLB Properties). He also serves on MLB's Schedule Committee and is a member of MLB's Labor Policy Committee.

Locally, Montgomery is an active alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania where he served as a trustee. He is the current chair of the policy board of WXPN Radio -- 88.5FM, the university's member-supported radio station. He also serves on the university's Board of Overseers of the Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts.

In addition to his Penn activities, Montgomery serves on the boards of Need in Deed, a non-profit service-learning organization working with children in Philadelphia public schools, and the Philadelphia Sports Congress. He is a past board chairman of both the Schuylkill Center for Environmental Education and the Woodlynde School, a private K-12 school in Strafford, PA.

In February 2007, Montgomery was one of Need in Deed's 20th Anniversary honorees in recognition of his 16 years of service on the organization's board. Montgomery also serves as a co-chair of the "Get in the Game" fundraiser for Philadelphia Futures, a program that helps inner-city students achieve their dream of a college education.

Under Montgomery's leadership, the Phillies continue to broaden their community outreach, supporting hundreds of charities and non-profit groups through contributions and other assistance provided by Phillies Charities, Inc., the club's charitable arm. Two keystones of the Phillies' charitable endeavors are the Phillies Phestival held each season in support of the ALS Association - Greater Philadelphia Chapter, and the annual Phillies Holiday Dinner, prepared and served by front office staff, at the Bethesda Project's "Our Brother's Place," a homeless facility in North Philadelphia.

The ball club is also very active on the education front with the sponsorship of "Be A Phanatic About Reading" and Phillies Phundamentals, youth programs aimed at combining fun and learning with baseball. In addition, Philadelphia's boys and girls are learning about the game and playing baseball through the Phillies-sponsored RBI and Rookie League programs.

Montgomery was born June 26, 1946, and grew up in the Roxborough section of Philadelphia. He is a graduate of the William Penn Charter School (1964) where he received the Alumni Award of Merit in 2005 and the University of Pennsylvania (1968) where he majored in history. He received his MBA from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania in the fall of 1970.

David and his wife Lyn make their home in the Wyndmoor section of Philadelphia. They have three children, Harry, Sam and Susa, and one granddaughter, Elizabeth.

OWNERSHIP

The Phillies is a limited partnership. David Montgomery is the general partner, with complete management authority. There are four limited partners:

- Claire S. Betz
- Tri-Play Associates, a firm comprised of three brothers, Alexander K. Buck, J. Mahlon Buck Jr. and William C. Buck. They are the principal executive officers of TDH Capital Corporation, a private venture capital investment company.
- Double Play, Inc., affiliated with fifth generation Philadelphia-based family businesses. John S. Middleton is its chairman.
- Giles Limited Partnership, Bill Giles' family partnership.

None of the partners owns as much as 50 percent of the partnership.

EXECUTIVES

BILL GILES
Chairman

Baseball has been Bill Giles' life. His father, the late Warren C. Giles, was president and general manager of the Cincinnati Reds (1946-51) and president of the National League (1951-69). Bill's mother died when he was nine so he spent long hours and a lot of days with his father at Crosley Field in Cincinnati. Bill's first job in baseball came when he was "around 14" years of age. It wasn't a glamorous position, as he did all kinds of odds and ends in the Cincinnati Reds' Public Relations Department.

Giles has held numerous positions with two National League teams, Houston and Philadelphia. He's served on a variety of committees in baseball and has been one of Philadelphia's most visible community activists. Currently chairman of the Phillies, Bill was appointed honorary National League president early in the 2001 season, the first father-son combination at that level in baseball history. Bill represents the NL at the All-Star Game and postseason play. The appointment by Commissioner Bud Selig is a testimony of Bill's stature in the game.

Following graduation from Denison University, Giles spent three years in the U.S. Air Force as a navigator in the Strategic Air Command.

His baseball career took on a full-time status in 1959 when he was named GM of the Nashville Vols, a Cincinnati minor league team. From there, he moved to the expansion Houston Colt 45s. While in Houston, Giles served as traveling secretary, publicity director, director of public relations and promotions and vice president. With the opening of Veterans Stadium approaching, the Carpenter family brought Giles to Philadelphia to run the business end of the operation.

Giles began his Phillies career as vice president, business operations, following the 1969 season. Three years later he was promoted to executive vice president.

When the Carpenters put the team up for sale in the spring of 1981, Giles organized a group that purchased the team on October 29, 1981. He remained president of the club until June 20, 1997, when he moved up to chairman. In the summer of 2001, Giles was nominated to serve as honorary president of the National League.

Giles is among Philadelphia's more civically involved citizens: chairman emeritus of the board, Philadelphia Convention and Tourism Bureau; member of the Executive Committee, Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and Philadelphia Sports Congress; past president of the Boy Scouts of America and the Corporate Alliance for Drug Education; on the board of the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce and the Police Athletic League; and a member of the Union League, Rotary Club and the visitors boards of the Temple University Medical School and Temple University Journalism School.

He has been honored many, many times for his contributions to the city. Among the awards: Distinguished Citizen of the Year by the Boy Scouts of America; Garry Maddox Award by the Philadelphia Child Guidance Center; Police Athletic League Man of the Year (1993), Philadelphia Boys Choir Man of the Year (1994); Anti-Defamation League Man of the Year (1994); American Red Cross Man of the Year (1996); Vision of Philadelphia Award (1996) by Philadelphia Hospitality, Inc.; the American Heart Association's Man of the Year; and the Team Leadership Award from the Tug McGraw Foundation (2006).

Born in Rochester, NY, on September 7, 1934, Giles resides in Villanova, Pa., with his wife Nancy. They are the parents of three sons, Michael, Joseph and Christopher. Michael and his wife Nanette have twins, daughter Lowell (Lowie) and son William (Will). Joe and his wife Paula have four children, Caroline, Dana, Molly and Max. Chris and his wife Amy have two children, Eliza and Warren.

Giles recently wrote a book about his baseball career currently available in most bookstores and on the internet entitled Pouring Six Beers at a Time: And Other Stories from a Lifetime in Baseball.

Stiles, who was born on January 1, 1946 in Philadelphia, obtained his undergraduate degree in political science from the University of Pennsylvania and his law degree, with honors, from Villanova University School of Law. He is the past chairperson of the Woodlynde School Board of Directors, and is on the board of directors of United Way for Southeastern Pennsylvania and is also a member of the board of trustees of Thomas Jefferson University.

Webb graduated from Dartmouth College and the University of Michigan Law School. He was a partner in Ballard Spahr Andrews & Ingersoll, the Philadelphia-based law firm, until joining the Phillies on a full-time basis in 2000. He is a director and past president of the Sports Lawyers Association.

Bill and his wife Jenny live in Devon and have three children, Elizabeth, Doug and Phillip.

RICHARD DEATS
Vice President, Phillies Enterprises

In 1982 he assumed responsibility for season tickets and was made sales director and in 1987 he added ticket operations and was made director of sales and ticket operations. He was named vice president of ticket sales and operations in January of 1992 and has overseen the sale, production and delivery of all Phillies tickets since then, including 1993 and 2004 which were the only two years in Phillies history with attendance of over 3 million.

During the construction of Citizens Bank Park he worked with Ewing Cole and HOK as the design liaison for the Phillies and it was during this time that he began transitioning to his current position in which he will represent the Phillies in many of their business relationships.

Richard was born and raised in Philadelphia and attended the William Penn Charter School and the University of Pennsylvania. He and his wife Nina live in Center City Philadelphia and have two daughters, Lisa and Wendy, who also live and work in Philadelphia.

TURNSTILE TRAFFIC

The Phillies drew 2,701, 815 fans to Citizens Bank Park in 2006. That number was the 4th-highest total in franchise history, behind the 2004 (3,250,092), 1993 (3,137,674) and 1979 (2,775, 011) seasons. Citizens Bank Park had 17 sellouts in 2006 and 23 crowds that exceeded 40,000.

SECOND HALF TURNAROUND

The Phillies went 45-30 (.600) in the second half of the season, leading all National League teams in wins. Offensively after the All-Star break, they led all NL teams in batting average (.279), hits (751), runs (445), RBI (424), walks (319), intentional walks (50), on-base percentage (.364), hit by pitch (56), total bases (1,259) and stolen base percentage (85.1) and tied for the lead in sacrifice flies (24). They finished second in home runs (108), triples (26), extra-base hits (266) and slugging percentage (.467).

POWERBALL

The Phillies set a new club record and finished third among National League teams with 216 home runs. Their previous record of 215 was set in 2004. Ryan Howard (58), Chase Utley (32) and Jimmy Rollins (25) all set career highs in homers. It was the fourth time in team history that the Phillies had four players with at least 20 home runs (Pat Burrell, 29) and it was the seventh straight season that the club had at least six players with double-digits in home runs.

DOUBLE-PLAY POWER

Chase Utley and Jimmy Rollins became the first double-play combination in Phillies history to hit 20 home runs each and the first National League duo since 2001, when shortstop Rich Aurilia (37) and second baseman Jeff Kent (22) did it for the Giants.

They also made the Phillies the first team in National League history – and third team in major league history – to have a second baseman and a shortstop with at least 25 home runs each. The Red Sox did it in 1948 and 1950 with second baseman Bobby Doerr (27 each season) and shortstop Vern Stephens (29 in 1948 and 30 in 1950).

DYNAMIC DUOS... AND TRIOS

Ryan Howard and Chase Utley combined to hit the most home runs by a duo in Phillies history. The previous record of 77 was done by Greg Luzinski (39) and Mike Schmidt (38) in 1977. Add Pat Burrell to the mix and they also have the most by any trio in club history, besting the 106 combined HR by Chuck Klein (43), Lefty O'Doul (32) and Don Hurst (31) in 1929.

Chase Utley and Jimmy Rollins combined for the 4th-most runs scored by a Phillies duo in franchise history. Only Chuck Klein and Lefty O'Doul in 1930 (280) and 1929 (278) and Klein and Dick Bartell in 1932 (270) combined for more.

BORN TO RUN

The Phillies led the National League with 865 runs scored. It was the most runs scored by the Phillies since the NL pennant-winning season of 1993, when they led the NL with 877 runs scored. The 2006 season was also their third straight with 800 runs scored and fourth straight Top 5 ranking. Last season, the Phils finished 2nd in the NL with 807 runs; in 2004, they finished 3rd (840); in 2003, they finished 5th (791).

2006 marked the third time in club history that the Phillies scored 800 or more runs in three straight seasons: 1892-96 (5 seasons) and 1898-1900 (3 seasons). The Phils had three players with over 100 runs scored: Chase Utley (131), Jimmy Rollins (127) and Ryan Howard (104). It was the first time since 1999 that the team had three players with 100 or more runs each (Bobby Abreu, 118; Ron Gant, 107; Doug Glanville, 101).

RANDOM RYAN HOWARD NOTES

- He homered against 19 of the 20 teams that the Phillies faced in 2006. The only pitching staff that kept him in the ballpark was the Pirates (0 HR in 5 G).
- Hit 12 home runs in 48 at-bats, August 25-September 8. In that span, he out-homered nine teams and didn't go more than seven at-bats without a home run.
- Hit six home runs at Shea Stadium, which tied for the 2nd-most homers by a visiting player in one season in the history of the park. The Cubs' Dave Kingman hit six in both the 1979 and 1980 seasons. The Phillies' Dick Allen holds the record for most home runs in one season at Shea, when he hit seven in 1968.
- His eight total home runs vs. the Mets in 2006 was the most by any player since Kingman hit eight against them in 1980.
- Led all NL players in home runs (30), RBI (78), walks (77), intentional walks (32), on-base % (.509), slugging % (.751), extra-base hits (45), total bases (199), home run ratio (8.83), RBI ratio (3.4), times on base (179) and pitches seen (1,480) in the second half of the season.

THE BRUISE BROTHERS

The Phillies set a club record with 95 hit by pitches this season, the most among all major league teams. The previous record of 75 (set in 1899) stood for 106 years before it was broken. Individually, Aaron Rowand came within one of tying Dave Hollins for the Phillies' all-time single-season record. Hollins was hit by 19 pitches in 1992.

2006 TEAM NOTES

THREE'S A CHARM

On September 3, Ryan Howard became the 19th player in Phillies history to hit 3 home runs in one game. On that same day, the Cardinals' Albert Pujols also hit 3 homers. According to home run guru David Vincent, it was the 12th time in major league history that two players hit 3 or more home runs on the same day.

Four of the 12 times it happened, the Phillies were involved: 6/6/65 (Johnny Callison and NYY's Tom Tresh); 9/15/96 (Benito Santiago and CWS' Frank Thomas); 8/10/02 (Mike Lieberthal and CHI's Sammy Sosa); 9/3/06 (Howard and Pujols).

THREE'S NOT A CHARM

The Phillies were the last team in the major leagues to hit a triple in 2006 and didn't hit one until their 23rd game on April 29. It was the furthest into a season the team had gone without a triple since 1953, when they finally tripled in their 28th game. The first Phillie to triple in 2006 was pitcher Cory Lidle, who hit the first of his career.

HOMECOMING KINGS

The Phillies finished the home portion of their season at 41-40 (.506). It marked the fourth straight season that the Phillies finished over .500 at home, the longest stretch of winning seasons at home since five straight, 1990-94. The Phils went 19-11 (.633) in their final 30 home games.

Some other home notes:

- The Phillies hit 112 home runs at home, the 2nd-highest total in club history, behind the 2004 team (113).
- They scored 444 runs at home, the most since 1977 (453) and 2nd-most since 1957.
- The Phillies hit .300 (247-822) in their final 23 games at home and .303 (37-122) with runners in scoring position in their final 13 home games.
- Four home games were postponed due to rain, which was a new season-high in the brief, 3-year history of Citizens Bank Park. In 2004, there were two rainouts and in 2005, there were three.

PEN PALS

The Phillies finished with the 3rd-best relief ERA (3.79) among all National League bullpens, their highest ranking since 1995, when they also finished third. It was the fifth time in the Phillies' last six seasons that the bullpen ERA was under 4.00. They also logged the 4th-most innings (539.0) and induced the most double plays (61).

The bullpen also went 60-0 when leading after 8.0 innings before suffering their first loss in that situation on August 31 at RFK Stadium. The Phillies were the last National League team to take a loss when leading after 8.0 innings and – at the time – were one of only three major league teams to be undefeated in that situation, along with the Blue Jays and Twins.

TO THE RESCUE

RHP Tom Gordon became the 2nd-fastest pitcher to 20 saves in Phillies history. He earned his 20th save of the season in the Phillies' 70th game. Only LHP Mitch Williams in the NL pennant-winning season of 1993 reached 20 saves faster, recording his 20th save in the Phils' 67th game that season. However, Williams had 20 saves in 47 Phillies wins. Gordon had 20 saves in just 35 wins. Only two Phillies closers have ever reached 20 saves in 35 or fewer games: RHP Steve Bedrosian in 1987 (20 saves in 35 wins) and RHP Ricky Bottalico in 1997 (20 saves in 34 wins). However, Bedrosian earned his 20th save in 1987 in the Phillies' 74th game and Bottalico in the team's 106th game.

MONTHLY MATTERS

The Phillies won 18 games in both August and September. It was the first time the team had back-to-back months with 18 wins since doing it in three straight months, July-September 1977, when they won 19, 22 and 19, respectively.

HELLO, MY NAME IS...

Seven players made their major league debut with the Phillies this season: two catchers: Chris Coste and Carlos Ruiz; two outfielders: Michael Bourn and Chris Roberson; three pitchers: Cole Hamels, Scott Mathieson and Brian Sanches.

HISTORY

PHILLIES TEAM HISTORY

Philadelphia, a city rich in history and tradition, has played an integral part in professional baseball's history.

While the Cincinnati Red Stockings of 1869 are recognized as the first all-salaried team, Philadelphia's earliest team, the Athletics, followed soon after in 1870. The next year, the National Association was formed and the Athletics joined that league.

When the Association disbanded in 1876, several of the stronger teams formed the National League, as it is still known today. The charter members were the Boston Red Caps, Chicago White Stockings, Cincinnati Red Stockings, St. Louis Brown Stockings, Hartford Dark Blues, New York Mutuals, Louisville Grays and the Philadelphia Athletics.

The very first National League game was played in Philadelphia on April 22, 1876, at 25th and Jefferson Streets. Boston won, 6-5, before an estimated crowd of 3,000.

Alfred Reach

Resting in seventh place with a 14-45 record, the Athletics couldn't make their final western trip because of insufficient funds. The team was immediately expelled from the league.

Philadelphia was without a National League franchise until 1883. Following the 1882 NL season, Alfred J. Reach, a former player and Philadelphia sporting goods founder along with attorney Col. John I. Rogers, purchased the Worcester (MA) franchise and moved it to Philadelphia. During their final year in the NL, the Worcester club was known as the Brown Stockings.

Starting a ball club from scratch, the new owners named the team "Phillies," a takeoff on the team's geographic roots, "Philly." The Phillies are the oldest, continuous, one-name, one-city franchise in all of professional sports.

None of the players from the Worcester team were part of the sale. The first Phillies roster was made up of ex-minor league players and players from other NL teams. The team finished last, 17-81-1. Total attendance was a reported 55,992.

FIRST GAME

History shows the Phillies played their first game on May 1, 1883, losing to the Providence Grays, 4-3, at Recreation Park, at 24th and Columbia Avenues. The crowd was estimated at 1,200.

It was the start of a tradition in which over 1,800 players have put on a Phillies uniform and over 114 million spectators have attended games in the city.

In 1887, the Phillies moved into a new "magnificent park" at Broad and Huntingdon Streets, which later became known as Baker Bowl (capacity 15,000). An estimated 20,000 fans jammed the park for the first game on April 30, a 19-10 win over the New York Giants.

Pat Moran

The Phillies had to share the Philadelphia baseball scene when the American League was formed in 1901. One of the eight teams was the Athletics under manager Connie Mack.

The Athletics enjoyed more success than the Phillies and thus were more popular. The A's won six pennants in their first 15 years while the Phillies could muster just one.

That first championship came in 1915 when Pat Moran, a former catcher with the Phillies, led them to the pennant in his first year as manager. Grover Cleveland Alexander, a 31-game winner, won the first World Series game against the Boston Red Sox, who then swept the next four games.

While the A's had a strong run in the 1930s (three pennants, including two straight World Championships in 1929-30), the Phillies floundered. Outfielder Chuck Klein led an awesome attack but an awful pitching staff kept the Phillies from winning.

Baker Bowl began to deteriorate physically when some wooden bleachers gave way in 1927, forcing the Phillies to play a few games at Shibe Park (home of the A's). Finally, after 51 years at their stadium, the Phillies moved permanently to Shibe Park on July 4, 1938, splitting a doubleheader with Boston, a 10-5 loss and a 10-2 win.

While the A's remained stable under the Shibe family, ownership of the Phillies seemed to change constantly. From 1903 to 1943, the club had ten different owners.

CARPENTER ERA BEGINS

Perhaps the most significant move in Phillies history came when the Carpenter family of duPont wealth in Wilmington (DE) bought the team on November 23, 1943, for an estimated $400,000.

In an effort to stimulate more interest in the club, Bob Carpenter Jr., the new president, announced a contest was being held to find a nickname for the Phillies. The name Blue Jays was chosen from among 623 suggestions.

Although it still maintained the official Phillies title, the club was known as Blue Jays for the 1944 and 1945 seasons. The new name was used heavily during that time, but then usage began to drop off in the following years. The Blue Jays name never appeared in the newspapers after 1947.

When Carpenter took over as president, he began to pour money into building a minor league system.

The efforts paid off rather quickly when a young team nicknamed the Whiz Kids won the 1950 pennant. Dick Sisler hit a dramatic three-run homer in the 10th inning at Ebbets Field to sink the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-1, on the last day of the season. Robin Roberts won 20 games that season, the first of six straight 20-win seasons. Center fielder Richie Ashburn started a streak of hitting over .300 for seven straight years, including two batting titles. Unfortunately, a world title eluded the Phillies as they were swept by the New York Yankees in four straight games.

Eddie Sawyer's young club was expected to be a force for a few years but a third-place tie in 1953 was the best they could do.

The A's, meanwhile, began to slide. After finishing last in 1954, their 11th eighth-place finish in 23 seasons, the A's were sold and moved to Kansas City. Once again, Philadelphia was a one-team baseball town.

Shibe Park was renamed Connie Mack Stadium in honor of the A's owner/manager in 1953. But it's worth noting that as early as 1953, a new stadium in Philadelphia was envisioned by Mayor Richardson Dilworth. Fourteen years and many disagreements later, ground was broken for Veterans Stadium, which finally opened with the Phillies hosting the Montreal Expos on April 10, 1971.

Under the leadership of Ruly Carpenter, who replaced his dad as President in 1972, and General Manager Paul Owens, the Phillies dominated the National League East in the mid-1970s. They won three consecutive division titles starting in 1976 but couldn't get over the hump until 1980, a year after they signed free agent Pete Rose.

Under Manager Dallas Green, the Phillies made it to the World Series that year by defeating the Houston Astros in a gut-wrenching National League Championship Series. Sisler's historic homer in 1950 was replaced as the greatest moment in Phillies history at precisely 11:29 p.m. on Tuesday, October 21, 1980, when Tug McGraw struck out Kansas City's Willie Wilson to give the franchise its first World Championship.

The powerful Phillies teams of that era were anchored by two Hall of Famers, Steve Carlton, the first pitcher to win four Cy Young Awards, and third baseman Mike Schmidt, a three-time MVP.

CARPENTER FAMILY SELLS

The end of a different era occurred after the 1981 season. Citing escalating player salaries, the Carpenter family put the Phillies up for sale. Bill Giles, executive vice president under Ruly Carpenter, and five other partners purchased the team for $30 million.

In just the second year of this new ownership group, the Phillies won their fifth Eastern Division title in eight years. Adding two veterans, Tony Perez and Joe Morgan, to an experienced team created the nickname Wheeze Kids.

Owens, who went from the front office to manage the team in July, guided the Phillies to the World Series for the fourth time by eliminating the Los Angeles Dodgers in the NLCS. The Baltimore Orioles, however, won the World Series, 4-1.

From generation to generation, fans' heroes change. Players such as Alexander, Klein, Roberts, Ashburn, Carlton and Schmidt will always be remembered, but new heroes emerged from the 1993 team. That club went from a last-place finish the previous year to the division title, leading the NL East for all but one day of the season. Lenny Dykstra was second in the MVP race; Terry Mulholland, John Kruk, Darren Daulton and Dave Hollins were All-Stars, but this was a total team effort.

This team didn't have one nickname such as the Whiz Kids or Wheeze Kids. They had many names because they were a group of athletes who became Phillies through shrewd moves by General Manager Lee Thomas.

As underdogs, the Phillies dumped the favored Atlanta Braves, 4-2, to make their third World Series appearance in the last 13 years. Their spring training neighbors, the Toronto Blue Jays, were the opponents. Jim Fregosi joined Moran, Sawyer, Green and Owens as managers who led the Phillies to an NL pennant and a trip to the Fall Classic.

A very entertaining World Series abruptly ended with Joe Carter's three-run homer, which gave the Blue Jays their second consecutive World Championship.

Ten years later, the Phillies family said goodbye to Veterans Stadium through a season-long series of "Field of Memories" events, which culminated with an emotional closing ceremony on September 28, 2003, featuring dozens of current and former Phils.

In 2004, the Phillies moved into their new home, Citizens Bank Park, a state-of-the-art, grass and dirt ballpark which will be the site of many memories to come.

Phillies baseball is more than wins and losses. It involves people.

People who were Hall of Famers during the early years of the franchise... Harry Wright, Ed Delahanty and Sam Thompson.

People who reached fans, first on the airwaves, and later on television... Gene Kelly, By Saam, Ashburn, Bill Campbell, Harry Kalas, Andy Musser and Chris Wheeler.

Oh yes. There's one more important figure in Phillies history... Phillie Phanatic, the big green furry creature who made its debut as the team's mascot on April 25, 1978. As with the 124-year-old baseball team, the Phanatic, too, is a tradition.

JACKIE ROBINSON

1B ■ 2B ■ 3B ■ OF

Commissioner Bud Selig announced that all teams would retire this number in 1997 during the 50th anniversary of Robinson becoming the first African American to play in Major League Baseball... Robinson made his debut that season with the Brooklyn Dodgers, who retired his number following his 1972 death... In 1987, the National League Rookie of the Year Award was renamed after Robinson... Former pitching coach Galen Cisco was the last Phillie to wear the number, in 1997. RICHIE ASHBURN SPECIAL ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

Established in 1998 in honor of the memory of Richie Ashburn, who spent nearly 50 years with the Phillies, the award is given annually to a member of the Phillies organization who has demonstrated the same loyalty, dedication and passion for the game as the award's namesake.

1998 – Pete Cera: A long-time employee who was with the Phillies from 1938 through 1998. He was a minor league traveling secretary, clubhouse manager, trainer and closed his outstanding career as assistant clubhouse manager in the major leagues.

1999 – Paul Owens: With the Phillies from 1955 until his death in 2003. Served as minor league manager, scout, farm director, player development director, general manager (1980 World Champions), major league manager (1983 NL Champions), assistant to the president and senior advisor to the general manager.

2000 – Ray Krise: First began working in the Phillies ticket office in 1951. Three years later he was named assistant ticket manager. He became ticket manager in 1962, a position he held until semi-retirement in 1986.

2001 – Eddie Ferenz: Joined the Phillies in 1966 as the public address announcer at Connie Mack Stadium. In October 1969, he became the team's traveling secretary, a position he held for 30 years.

2002 – Maje McDonnell: Joined the Phillies in 1947 and was a member of the Whiz Kids coaching staff in 1950. He's also served as a coach, scout and goodwill ambassador and currently works in the team's Community Relations Department.

2003 – Larry Shenk: Began his career with the Phillies in October 1963 as publicity director. As vice president of public relations, "The Baron" oversees the media relations, community relations and creative services staffs, and was an instrumental part of the Field of Memories events at Veterans Stadium in 2003.

2004 - Christine Long: A tireless and dedicated employee who joined the Phillies in 1971 as secretary to the director of promotions. As director of entertainment, she has orchestrated pre-game events at Veterans Stadium and Citizens Bank Park with precision clockwork to entertain millions of fans.

2005 - Mike DiMuzio: Began his Phillies career on Opening Day of Veterans Stadium in 1971 as a member of the junior ground crew while in high school, the start of his lifelong affection for the Vet. Eleven years later, he became director, stadium operations, a position he carried into Citizens Bank Park.

2006 - Kathy Killian: Kathy has been with the organization since 1985. She began her Phillies career as an intern in the Sales Department and two years later she was hired full-time as a sales office representative. In 1995, she was promoted to director of group sales, a position in which she has excelled.

BILL GILES AND LARRY ROJAS AWARDS

Two awards were established in 1999 to honor minor league players who share the same attributes as the awards' namesakes: Bill Giles and Larry Rojas.

Giles and Rojas share a love and respect for the game of baseball, an outstanding work ethic and pride in being a member of the Phillies organization.

Giles climbed the baseball ladder from the minors to the majors, working in numerous executive capacities with the Astros and Phillies until getting a group together to purchase the Phillies in 1981. He was president and general partner until 1997 when he became chairman.

Rojas was born in Cuba and played minor league baseball with the Phillies. He has also served as a minor league coach and manager, spring training coordinator, scout and liaison for the Hispanic players in the system.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League Baseball Club. These local winners are announced in September during Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pre-game ceremony at the World Series. Greg Luzinski received the award in 1978 and Garry Maddox in 1986. Other past winners include Jamie Moyer, Jim Thome, Curt Schilling, Al Leiter, Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith, and Cal Ripken, Jr.

WALL OF FAME

The tradition of honoring alumni of both the Phillies and the Philadelphia Athletics began in 1978 at Veterans Stadium in a 200 Level display originally called the Philadelphia Baseball Hall of Fame. Former Phillies continue to be honored at Citizens Bank Park in the Wall of Fame display located in the Memory Lane section of Ashburn Alley. The Philadelphia Zoo is the sponsor of Memory Lane and the Wall of Fame.

Phillies players with five or more years of service are eligible. In addition, position players require a minimum of 700 games, while pitchers need a minimum of 180 games to be eligible. Managers and coaches need four or more years of service.

All candidates must be retired for three years before they can be eligible for the 25-man ballot. Consideration is given to longevity, ability, contributions to the Phillies and baseball, character, plus special achievements.

REMEMBERING THE A'S

From 1978 through the final year of the Vet, 2003, members of the A's were also selected yearly. The A's were a member of the American League in Philadelphia from 1901 through the 1954 season when the franchise was moved to Kansas City.

A total of 25 former A's were part of the Philadelphia Baseball Hall of Fame, starting with Connie Mack, their long-time manager/owner who was inducted posthumously in 1978.

A large statue of Connie Mack once stood at Connie Mack Stadium on the south side of Lehigh Avenue. During the 1971 inaugural season at Veterans Stadium, the Phillies relocated the statue to the corner of Broad Street and Pattison Avenue. The Phillies moved it again during the final construction stages of Citizens Bank Park in March of 2004.

Mack's statue is located on the west side of Citizens Bank Way. Names of the 25 A's players who were honored at the Vet's Hall of Fame display have been added to Mack's statue so that fans will forever remember the A's.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Phillies came into the National League in 1883, having moved from Worcester, Mass., where they were the Brown Stockings. They have been known as the Phillies ever since, the longest-running team name in pro sports. Although the club was known as the Blue Jays in 1944 and 1945, the name was never officially changed from the Phillies.

PHILLIE PHANATIC

HT: 6 feet; WT: 300 pounds, mostly fat
AGE: Made debut on April 25, 1978
BIRTHPLACE: Galapagos Islands
EYES: White eyeballs, black pupils, purple eyelashes and blue eyebrows
SKIN: Bright green fur
PHYSICAL DEFECTS: Overweight, clumsy feet, extra-long beak, curled-up red tongue, gawking neck, slight case of body odor.

Named after the team's fanatical fans, the Phanatic was created out of one of the weekly staff meetings of the Phillies marketing department after the 1977 season. From that humble beginning, the beloved mascot made it all the way to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY, where in 2002 it became part of a permanent exhibit.

The original person in the costume was David Raymond, a graduate of Newark (DE) High School and the University of Delaware (1979), BA degree in physical education. In his 16 years, Raymond missed just eight games.

Tom Burgoyne, the current Phanatic, actually began his fanatical career as Raymond's back-up in 1989 and then joined the Phillies promotional staff in 1990. He has made world-wide appearances with Major League Baseball International, including Japan (1997, 1998 and 2002) and Australia (1997 and 1999). The 41-year-old is a graduate of St. Joseph's Preparatory School and Drexel University (1988), where he earned a BS degree in marketing. He and his wife Jennifer have three sons, Andrew, Daniel and Matthew.

PHILLIES TELEVISION NETWORK

The Phillies enter their 10th season in 2007 with the all-sports cable network Comcast SportsNet (CSN). Comcast will carry 106 games, mainly on the CSN cable channel, in addition to three Grapefruit League games. CSN will once again enhance the fan experience with increased clarity of the action, as it continues to produce Phillies home games in high definition from its state-of-the-art mobile production facility.

The network has changed but the channel remains the same as CW Philly 57 begins its ninth season with the Phils this year. They will broadcast three exhibition games and 43 games during the regular season, along with the 30-minute show W.B. Mason Behind the Pinstripes before every Sunday afternoon telecast. The show is hosted by Scott Palmer, Phillies Director of Public Affairs and a former news anchor and sportscaster for WPVI TV. CW Philly's sister station, CBS3, will carry two games, including the season opener on April 2.

Of the 162 Phillies games, 151 will be broadcast locally, with nine other games being picked up nationally by FOX. The Phils have also been selected for ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball on May 6 and July 15, with the potential of three additional appearances in the second half of the season.

NIGHT GAME: Any game scheduled to start after 5 p.m. will be considered a night game. If a game is scheduled to start at 5 p.m. and is delayed for any reason it will be considered a day game. If a game is scheduled to start at 5:01 p.m. it will be considered a night game. Twi-night doubleheaders shall be considered two night games.

PINCH-HITTERS: A player shall be considered a pinch-hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter and only on his first time at bat which must be before he becomes a fielder. If the team bats around and a pinch-hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared, he will not be considered a pinch-hitter during that second time up.

ROSTER LIMITS: 40 until Opening Day, when the number must be reduced to 25 until September 1, when it again becomes 40 (maximum).

SUSPENDED GAME RULE: For the purpose of this rule, all performances in the completion of a suspended game shall be considered as occurring on the original date of the game. A game terminated by curfew or by a prearranged time limit is a suspended game if it has progressed to be an official game (4 1/2 or 5 innings). A game terminated by light failure or malfunction of a mechanical field device under control of the home club is a suspended game anytime after it begins. Rule 4.11 (d)... A called game ends at the moment the umpire terminates play. EXCEPTION: If the game is called while an inning is in progress and before it is completed, the game becomes a suspended game in each of the following situations:

–The visiting team has scored one or more runs to tie the score and the home team has not scored.

–The visiting team has scored one or more runs to take the lead and the home team has not tied the score or retaken the lead.

Suspended games shall be resumed at the exact point of suspension immediately preceding the next scheduled, single game between the two clubs at the same site.

Any legal game called due to weather with the score tied is a tie game and must be replayed in its entirety.

WAIVER AND DRAFT PRICES: The waiver price is $20,000 and the Major League Draft price is $50,000.

YEAR OF SERVICE: 172 days constitute a full major league year of service.

QUALIFYING MARKS

Batting Championship: Highest batting average and 502 or more plate appearances. However, if there is any player with fewer than the required number of plate appearances whose average would be the highest if he were charged with the required number of official at-bats, then that player shall be awarded the championship.

Pitching Championship: Lowest ERA and 162 or more innings pitched.

Fielding Championship: Highest fielding average and (a) catcher must have played in at least 81 games; (b) infielder or outfielder must have played in at least 108 games; and (c) pitcher must have 162 innings pitched.

Rookie: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit.

Save: Credit a pitcher with a save when:

(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club;
(2) He is not the winning pitcher, and
(3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
  (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
  (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck, or
  (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

No more than one save may be credited in each game.

Consecutive-Game Hitting Streak: A consecutive-game hitting streak shall not be terminated if all the player's plate appearances result in a walk, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit.

Consecutive-Game Playing Streak: A consecutive-game playing streak shall extend if the player plays one half-inning on defense, or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance only shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from a game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirements of this rule, his streak shall continue.

Waivers: Major league waivers must be secured for all major league trades from August 1st until the day after the regular season concludes. No waivers are required to trade a major league player at any other time.

RAIN RULES

The right to postpone the playing of a game is vested in the home club with the exception of the final series between two clubs beginning on or after June 1, at which time the responsibility shifts to the Umpire-in-Chief. Once a game has started, the Umpire-in-Chief has sole authority to determine if a game should be suspended, when it can be resumed or if it should be terminated because of bad weather or unfit playing conditions. The Official Playing Rules provide that when a game has been temporarily suspended, umpires must wait at least 30 minutes before calling the game.

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average: Divide at-bats into hits.

ERA: Multiply earned runs by nine and divide the total by innings pitched.

Slugging Percentage: Divide total bases by the total times at bat (not including walks, sacrifices, hit by pitcher or interference).

On-Base Percentage: Divide the on-base total (hits, walks, hit by pitcher, and interference) by total plate appearances (at-bats, walks, hit by pitcher and sacrifices).

Magic Number: Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

PHILLIES IN THE COMMUNITY

The Phillies organization takes great pride in giving back to the community. Off the field, the Phillies have been a team to count on for decades through their efforts of reaching out to those in need.

Phillies Charities, Inc. serves as the fundraising arm of the Phillies organization and donates to dozens of non-profit organizations each year. At the annual Phillies Phestival in 2006, Phillies Charities helped raise over $671,000 for the ALS Association of Philadelphia, which is the club's primary charity. Since adopting ALS (Lou Gehrig's Disease) in 1984, the Phillies and Phillies Charities have raised over $9.0 million for ALS research and patient services. Also, Phillies Charities raised an additional $201,000 in 2006, most of which was donated through its Discretionary Fund to local, non-profit organizations.

Among the groups that benefited from the Phillies and Phillies Charities are the American Heart Association, Philadelphia Stars Negro Leagues Memorial Fund, Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, Boy Scouts of America, the Junior Baseball Federation, Police Athletic League, Boys & Girls Clubs, Make-A-Wish Foundation, Philadelphia Futures, Spanish-Speaking Council of Philadelphia and Philadelphia Reads.

The Phillies are proud of their rich history of player and staff community involvement over the years. Chase Utley was named the 2006 winner of the Phillies Community Service Award for his contributions to the community last season. Additionally, Pat Burrell, Geoff Geary, Tom Gordon, Ryan Howard, Ryan Madson, Jimmy Rollins, Aaron Rowand and Shane Victorino were among the many current Phillies who donated time and money to a variety of charities.

Not to be overlooked are the players' wives, who also volunteer their time and efforts to raise dollars for various charities. In 2006, the wives hosted a charity event that raised over $35,000 for Camp No Worries, a summer camp for child cancer patients and their siblings. Additionally, the wives played a significant role in the Phillies Phestival and volunteered as models for the annual Easter Seals charity fashion show, which raised close to $80,000.

Phillies front office employees also annually give of their time, money and efforts in several ways. Virtually the entire front office staff volunteers to work the annual Phillies Phestival for ALS. The staff also annually prepares and serves a holiday dinner for the homeless each year, gives to the United Way and participates in numerous charity events.

Education and literacy are at the forefront of the Phillies' community efforts. "Phillies Phundamentals" is an after-school program started by the club in January 2001 which runs year-round in several inner-city recreation centers. The program, which targets at-risk children, uses baseball concepts to make learning fun for kids. Additionally, children from the program are brought to a Phillies game and get the opportunity to meet a player. Ryan Madson has served as chairman of the program for the past two seasons. In the fall of 2004, the Phillies started the popular "Be A Phanatic About Reading" program, which reaches thousands of elementary students in Philadelphia public schools.

The Phillies annually support many education-based programs, including Major League Baseball's "Breaking Barriers," the Philadelphia Free Library Reading Program, the Philadelphia School District reading program and the Multiple Sclerosis READaTHON. Also, the "Phillies Harmony Fan Club," which was started in January 2003, uses baseball to provide recreational and educational activities for physically and mentally disabled children and adults.

For the past 13 years, former Phillies pitcher Dickie Noles has been an invaluable member of the Phillies organization, speaking annually to thousands of school-aged children on the dangers of drugs and alcohol and the importance of education. Noles, a certified drug and alcohol counselor, visits dozens of schools each year.

The Phillies are also committed to providing the underprivileged youth of Philadelphia the opportunity to play organized baseball through the Rookie and RBI League programs. Rookie and RBI Leagues are designed not only to encourage inner-city children (from ages 6-18) to play baseball, but also to teach them the value of teamwork and sportsmanship. Combined, the programs involve more than 7,000 boys and girls yearly, making it the largest RBI and Rookie League program in the country. In addition, the Phillies also initiated and host three local amateur baseball tournaments. The Carpenter Cup is a tournament designed to give exposure to the top tri-state area high school baseball players while the Liberty Bell Classic is an annual Division I college tournament. The Giles Cup, started in 2001, is a college tournament for Division II schools.

Chase Utley was the 2006 winner of the Phillies Community Service Award. The presentation was made by former Phillies center fielder Garry Maddox in September.

IN MEMORIAM

Early October was a difficult time for the Phillies organization. In the space of 11 days, we lost three members of the Phillies family.

Paul Richardson, the Phillies organist for 36 seasons, 1970-2005, died on October 2 at his Wilmington, Del., home following a lengthy illness.

Over the course of his career at Connie Mack Stadium, Veterans Stadium and Citizens Bank Park, he entertained more than 70 million fans.

"Paul was a character who was more than just a gifted organist. He was an entertainer extraordinaire," said Bill Giles, Phillies chairman. "He loved to perform and loved people."

"He had a great sense of timing and a feel for the game of baseball. Paul was a big part of our in-game entertainment. He was always suggesting ways to pump our fans. Above all, he was a quality individual," said Phillies President David Montgomery.

Cory Lidle, a right-handed pitcher who spent part of 2004, all of 2005 and part of 2006 in a Phillies uniform, died on October 11 when his single-engine Cirrus SR20 plane crashed into a 50-story building on Manhattan's Upper East Side, 15 minutes after taking off from an airport in New Jersey. He had just started the first leg of a cross-country trip to his southern California home with a friend.

The 34-year-old Lidle had obtained his pilot's license in the off-season. Mention the word "flying" to Cory and he would instantly smile.

"I'll always remember Cory as a loving father first and a great teammate second," said Shane Victorino. "He was a soft-spoken and humble guy who was always there for his teammates, especially the younger players."

Johnny Callison, a three-time All-Star outfielder with the Phillies (1962, 1964-65), died on October 12 following a long illness. While with the Phillies, he was the regular right fielder for eight years.

"He can run, throw, field and hit with power. There's nothing he can't do well on a ball field," the late Gene Mauch once said of Callison.

Callison was third in the NL homers (31) and fifth in RBI (104) in 1964, while hitting .274 and scoring 101 runs. He finished second to St. Louis Cardinals third baseman Kenny Boyer in the NL Most Valuable Player race.

He was the first and only Phillies player to win the MVP Award in an All-Star Game following his dramatic, three-run homer with two out in the bottom of the ninth that gave the NL All-Stars a 7-4 win at Shea Stadium in 1964.

Four months earlier, Philadelphia native Eric Gregg, one of the best and most entertaining Major League Baseball umpires, died following a stroke.

"He was my friend, and I'll miss him," said Jerry Crawford, another umpire from Philadelphia. "He was a very good umpire and a funny guy. He was a terrific partner. Eric loved the game and his family and I loved the guy. It was his dream to be in baseball."

Gregg was a National League umpire from 1975 through 1999. He made his major league umpiring debut at the age of 24, becoming the third African-American umpire in MLB history. He worked the 1989 World Series, four League Championship Series, two Division Series and one All-Star Game.

With his wide smile, gregarious personality and lively stories from his days in the majors, Gregg remained a fixture in the city where he grew up. He was seen daily at Citizens Bank Park serving food and beverages at Chickie's and Pete's in Ashburn Alley.
